

HARMONY IN C

A community choir to enhance the quality of life and health of adults affected by cancer in South-Western Sydney

SEEKING VOLUNTEERS

We're exploring how being in a community choir can improve the quality of life and health of adults in South Western Sydney who have had cancer, their family, friends, carers, students and those who lost someone to cancer.

Join us and experience 8 weeks of choir training sessions and a performance - for free!

This project is a research collaboration between the South Western Sydney Local Health District and Western Sydney University, with ethics approval from both institutions.

We are recruiting a broad representation from multicultural communities.
